Christie Brinkley has eyes for only one male these days, and she confessed to her friend Jill Rappaport on her "Rappaport to the Rescue" podcast, that it's her rescue dog Chester (given to her by Rappaport), who Brinkley calls "Chester my protector."

The supermodel said "everywhere I go — even when I get out of the shower — he is there waiting for me, and no man has ever looked at me the way Chester has," to which Rappaport replied, "Oh, Christie, I doubt that!"
